

WILSON ANSWERS THE QUERIES IN T. R.'S "MESSAGE"

Republican Majority in New Jersey Senate Blocked Corporation Law Reforms.

Gov. Wilson has replied to these questions asked at Louisville by Theodore Roosevelt speaking through ex-Senator Beveridge:

Is it not a fact that the laws of the State under which a corporation is organized prescribe its powers?

Are not all the powers of the Standard Oil and similar monopolies conferred by the laws of New Jersey?

Could not these powers be curtailed by amendments to the New Jersey laws?

Why has not Mr. Wilson as Governor of New Jersey recommended such amendments?

Gov. Wilson's reply was made through Senator O'Gorman, who gave out this dispatch from the Governor to the Senator:

Senator James A. O'Gorman: Authorize you to say that Republican majority in Legislature made revision of corporation laws impossible, and no New Jersey official could prosecute or propose dissolution for breach of Federal statute.

WOODROW WILSON.

REPUBLICANS WERE "TOO BUSY FIGHTING REFORMS."

Gov. Wilson's telegram puts the matter squarely up to the Republican Legislature of New Jersey, said Senator O'Gorman. "His position is that the powers of the States over corporations, chartered in the several States should not lie dormant nor be usurped by the Federal Government, but Gov. Wilson insists that the trusts should be prosecuted, both by the States and the Federal Government, and he believes that not merely the civil but also the criminal portion of the Sherman law should be enforced against the trusts and trust magnates."

"Gov. Wilson in his inaugural address, and also on three other occasions has demanded that the Legislature of New Jersey revise the corporation laws in order that he and the people officials might have the power of prosecution and dissolution which they now lack."

"Senator Beveridge has forgotten that in 1911 the Senate of New Jersey had a Republican majority. The Republican majority in the New Jersey Legislature was so busy trying to destroy Woodrow Wilson's progressive legislation that it had no time to respond to his repeated demands that the corporation laws of New Jersey be made effective to prosecute and dissolve the trusts."

DESCRIBING AN ARTIST.
(From the Washington Star.)
"That man is not very good looking, but he is a most impressive talker."
"Yes," replied Senator Borah, "he is what the musicians refer to as a performer with more temperament than technique."

FEEL BULLY! HEAD CLEAR, STOMACH SWEET, BOWELS RIGHT—"CASCARETS"

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, disordered stomach, and are all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely dosing yourself every few days with salts, cathartic pills, castor oil and other harsh irritants? Cascarets immediately cleanse and sweeten the stomach, remove the sour undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. A Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel cheerful and bully for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

Broadway Saks & Company at 34th Street

Tomorrow, Saturday, October 19th we shall present a wonderful display of

Women's Coats

at prices which are unequalled in any store in the city of New York

an impartial judgment must concede that these assortments and these prices are a tribute to our merchandising capabilities

¶ We should be derelict in our duty to ourselves and to you if, in this brief talk with you, we abated one jot of our enthusiasm for the truly remarkable values which are the theme of this announcement.

¶ Never before in our experience has the coat season been ushered in under such auspicious circumstances as it will be tomorrow at Saks'.

¶ Never in our experience have we been in a position to announce coat values in which prices were so overwhelmingly in your favor as in this offering.

¶ And this is the more notable because, in many quarters this season, there has been a dearth of coat fabrics, and we actually know of several coat makers who have been unable to fill their orders solely on this account.

¶ The fact is, this is a great coat season. In those European centers of fashion, Paris, London and Berlin, a coat at this season is inevitable if one makes any pretense to style, and the corresponding popularity of this garment in New York has resulted in a shortage of coat fabrics in this market.

¶ Yet in spite of this condition we have, after many weeks of preparation, assembled a display of coats, immense enough and diverse enough to embrace the full range of the season's styles, both in models and fabrics, and have at the same time created values which are quite too radical to permit of any over-night duplication elsewhere.

¶ To that woman who is considering the purchase of a Fall or Winter coat, we commend these values to her interest, and while perhaps none of these garments deserves to be exploited at the expense of another, we cannot help but make a passing reference to the sale of Brocaded Velvet Evening Wraps, immediately following this introduction, which strikes us as probably the most wonderful value of all.

Fourth floor

Brocaded Velvet Evening Wraps } value $50 . . Saturday special at } 29.50

The Newest Paris Model

This wrap is made of silk brocaded velvet in black only. It is a seven-eighth length cutaway model, draped to the side and fastened there with a large hand-made silk ornament. Lined and interlined with pastel shade or black peau de cygne, and the entire coat is edged with black marabou trimming. One of the handsomest evening wraps you ever put your eyes on, beautifully made and finished, and in a model which can hardly be adequately presented in a bald announcement of this character.

Suits & Overcoats for Young Men who are particular on the subject of style—17.50

¶ No good going to a mediocre source for the best results. And, as it is generally conceded that Saks & Company leads New York in clothes for men, it is a fair assumption that what we can do for older men we can also do for the younger generation. But it is more than an assumption—it is a fact, and sooner or later every young man has got to find it out.

¶ Our assortments in young men's clothes this Fall are unique. They are probably the most comprehensive ever brought together. The suits are shown in a variety of clever models, made for the most part on the negligee lines of English garments. The materials are mostly browns and grays, though there is no limitation of other colors in the fabrics.

¶ The overcoats are long ulsterette models, and short-knee-length styles, button-through effect. And every garment is tailored with especial regard for all of these little details of line and finish which the particular young man looks for in his clothes. Ages 14 to 20. Sizes 30 to 36.

Women's Trimmed Hats at $10 that are worth twice as much and sell for twice as much elsewhere.

Saks Saturday Special

¶ Our reputation for trimmed hats at ten dollars grows apace. And in sustaining that reputation each Saturday we err on the side of improving the value. How well we have succeeded this week will be seen in tomorrow's offering, which is composed of an entirely new collection of medium size round hats and variations on the present Tam o' Shanter craze.

¶ Made of exceptional quality erect pile plush, hatter's silk plush, and silk velvet, trimmed with ostrich plumes or fancies, which are all the thing in Paris at this writing. Designed in a variety of extremely clever styles, in every one of which is apparent the effective touch of capable hands. Values which solve the problem of economy in hats.

New Fall Apparel for Misses, Small Women and Girls—authentic in style and attractive in price

¶ Our Misses' Department is a miniature Paris, where the fashions of the hour congregate like a ballet. Here each new and distinctive vogue has its brief hour upon the stage, and dances off as each new-hatched favorite traipses on. Whatever Paris lauds today, in models, fabrics and colors, reproduced perfectly, and marked at prices which are appreciably lower than the average. The values given below are a case in point, offering you a liberal margin of saving on those prices usually charged for garments of this quality and character.
